

Lutheran Military Support Group,

For the last five years my family and I (Nick Mount) have been awed by the financial support provided by organizations like yours. It is a gentle reminder that there are believers who are willing to support us and who believe in what we are doing. Thank you for this encouragement.

As May approaches, my wife (Diana) and I are anxiously awaiting to find out where our family will be called. We try not to think about where it might be, but we can't help daydreaming a little. We are really excited for this next chapter in our lives.

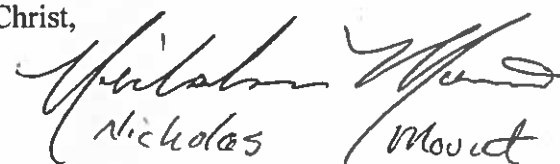

The training I have received at Wisconsin Lutheran Seminary has been topnotch. I cannot wait to put it to good use to encourage my brothers and sisters in the faith and to reach those who still do not know the good news of Jesus Christ. Being a second career student and having a diverse background my prayer is that God may use this unique background as a way of connecting more and more people to their Savior through the means of grace.

During this time of training my wife and our four children (Sam 10, Izzy 5, Jonah 4, and Isaac 1) have been a wonderful source of encouragement to me. I mention this to let you know that your scholarship is not just helping a seminary student but is providing for a young Christian family. We did not know how we were going to make it financially as I studied to become a pastor. Gifts from organizations like yours have been an answer to our prayers.

This gift, in particular, means a great deal to me. When I was in the Army it felt like a brotherhood of sorts. You knew the men and women with you were willing to make great sacrifices for the sake of their country, even the greatest of sacrifices. It is this type of comradery that made my time in the U.S. Army so special. With this gift from your organization, I feel like that comradery has been renewed. Of course, the mission is different, but the goals are strikingly similar, that is, to save others through self-sacrifice. It is an honor to share in this mission of preaching and teaching Christ crucified!

Once again, thank you so much for choosing to provide scholarships for seminary veterans. It speaks volumes to us that you wish to join in the seminary's mission of training called workers for the harvest field. I look forward to serving alongside all of you. It is encouraging to know that we have so many fellow Christians who are ready to walk shoulder to shoulder in the church militant as we seek to proclaim God's message of reconciliation and bring His wonderful light to those who are still in darkness. March on Christian soldiers!

Yours in Christ,

Nicholas Mount
